The only way for evil to win is for good people to remain silent. This isn't just a clever phrase. It's a deep and meaningful truth. It's the truth that will set us free—if we choose to embrace it.

By us I mean you and me. It needs to start somewhere and sometime. It begins here and now. With us. Others will join when we start, after we set a noisy example, and blaze a path.

We see good people in prison who have been jailed for their goodness. They are everywhere. We now call attention to people who have been imprisoned because they want to prevent the climate of our Earth from collapsing, to stop the planet we live on from becoming a deadly hellhole.

The leaders of the British government are the fools responsible for these imprisonments, for jailing good people because they are good. They do this while protecting and subsidizing the fossil fuel industry—an industry that has already severely and permanently damaged the Earth, and is poised to do much worse.

British Petroleum and other climate criminals are calling the shots. They pay off governments which is why, decades after climate scientists publicly warned us that burning fossil fuels would cause the disasters we are seeing today, not a single government has acted to protect the climate.

Meanwhile, these 5 brave and honorable people, Just Stop Oil activists who put their lives on the line for us, for our children and for Nature Herself, are imprisoned.

WE CALL ON THE UK TO IMMEDIATELY FREE THESE POLITICAL PRISONERS.

We call on Keir Starmer to demonstrate that he is different and better than his predecessors, that he represents an honorable and sane administration.

Any government that threatens the Earth and silences those who speak up for Nature is an illegitimate government. There is no excuse, no cover, no explanation that justifies poisoning our planet and suppressing those who care enough to protect all of us from that insanity.

Nominally, this is about blocking a highway. Nonsense. The truth is, these people were punished for their courage. Whether or not they made a strategic mistake is irrelevant.

Should the Allies have bombed the track tracks leading to Auschwitz? They would have damaged property and certainly broken some laws in doing so. And saved lives. The law is an ass. We know right from wrong. The future of the Earth is paramount and we don't give a damn if causing the Sixth Extinction is legal.

The UK government is guilty and cannot hide behind laws that they themselves make. Laws that protect Big Oil and threaten every living creature on this planet.

WE WILL SPEAK THE NAMES OF THE IMPRISONED AND DENOUNCE THE OUTRAGE OF THEIR IMPRISONMENT.

This will not go away. We will speak clearly directly and forcefully, and not provide authorities with the slightest excuse to imprison us, to punish us, to suppress us. Unlike blocking a highway (a harmless nuisance), our group (The Saners) won't even do that.

But, we will never stop speaking out. We will spread the word and our disgust at this outrage—and it will be worldwide. Every government that attacks Nature's protectors will face exposure, resistance, and well-deserved ridicule.

We will be amplifiers for truth. Loud persistent voices for the silenced.

And then we begin nonviolent noncooperation. We will grind cruel governments and insane industries like oil, coal and natural gas to a halt. WE will be the voice of the 5 who were chosen as an example. WE will take charge. WE will save the Earth.

To the UK government and governments everywhere who abuse our planet for personal greed and power—YOU HAVE BEEN WARNED. The UK must free the prisoners NOW. If you fail, you will lose all support, all credibility...and your power will come to an end. This is our pledge.
